

Archaeology in Mind

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

To become a member of Archaeology in Mind, the following information is required. This information enables the group to contact the individual regarding upcoming events and complies with the group's health and safety procedures in the event of an accident on-site. It is the individual's responsibility to ensure that all information provided is accurate and up-to-date.

Full Name: DoB:

Contact email:

Emergency Contact Details:

By signing below you are consenting to giving your information to AiM, and agree:

I have read AiM's Constitution and agree to abide by the rules and policies. I understand which information AiM holds about me, how this information is used, and that this information is available to me upon request, as specified in AiM's General Data Protection Regulations. I confirm that I will not bring any debts or contracts to the group and that neither the founder, Committee, nor the members are responsible for any debts or contracts should I do so. I am responsible for my behaviour within the group. I confirm that I will read and understand the relevant Risk Assessment guidelines outlining Health and Safety on-site.

Any important allergy or medical information should be declared in the box below. AiM does not take any responsibility for incidents involving non-disclosed emergency information. All personal information will be kept in strict confidence, in accordance with the group's General Data Protection Regulations (a copy of which is available on-site at all times). By signing at the bottom of the form you are agreeing that you have declared any important medical or allergy information

Medical/Allergy Declaration

It is preferable for a member of AiM to have up-to-date anti-tetanus inoculations. If you do not have up-to-date inoculations, you are accepting any responsibility in the event of an accident on-site by signing below.

The individual should be made aware that photographs will be taken during excavations for advertisement purposes, and to record the progress of excavations. If you DO NOT CONSENT for these pictures to be used on the AiM website, Facebook page, and/or any advertising leaflets/posters, please tick this box:

I agree to pay the £25 annual membership fee, renewable

Signed Date

Data Protection Policy

The information provided to AiM will only be used for AiM membership records for the purposes of health and safety procedures and contact information. It will be kept safe and secure for the period of the annual membership and will not be transferred to any third party. Any member can request the information that AiM holds on them, and consent for AiM to hold this information can be withdrawn at any point. For more information, see the relevant sections within AiM's Constitution, and the AiM General Data Protection Regulation document.